WEDNESDAY, July 12.
Cholera is spreading in Australia.
Col. Martin, of Montreal, is dead.
Prendergast will be hanged to-morrow.
Earthquakes occurred in Turkey yesterday.

Wm. Tucker, of Toronto, was suffocated by gas.
The Britannia won another yacht race to-day.

Prorogation of the Dominion House is expected next week.

Laurier starts on the 20th of August on a tour of the North-West.

Sir Charles Russell has been made Lord Chief Justice of England.

Japan is to land troops in Korea and war between Japan and China is regarded as inevitable.

Delegates to the Colonial Conference were banquetted by the Toronto board of trade last night.

The French treaty was considered in committee and reported. It now stands for a third reading.

The survivors of the wrecked Alaska eat the body of one of their party who had succumbed to starvation.

Further inquiry into the Curran bridge scandal was made by the public accounts committee and developed startling frauds.

The resolution in the House of Commons granting an annual subsidy of $75,000 to a fast Atlantic steamship service was discussed in committee.

A bill was introduced in the house of Commons yesterday to permit the C. P. Railway to choose the remainder of its land grant in one block. Another bill amending the Dominion land act was read the first time.

Daily gave notice of a land subsidy to North-West railroads, including the Rocky Mountain, C. and E. Railway, from Olds station to Red Deer river and coal fields. Also to the Wolseley and Fort Qu'Appelle railway, four miles.

Yesterday marked a new chapter in the great strike—the inauguration of legal proceedings against the general managers of the railways on same lines as the indictment against the strikers' leaders. It is claimed that the general managers' association is as much responsible for the interpretation of the interstate commerce and carriage laws as the A. R. U.; hence the proceedings. Debs and his associates of the A. R. U., are under arrest. Grand Master Sovereign's manifesto to the knights of labor has not been generally accepted by the district and local assemblies of that order, but it is expected by labor leaders that by the end of the present week, all knights of labor will be on strike. Trains were moved quite freely yesterday at many points and railway officials pretend to believe that the lack of the strike is gone. Renewed efforts to bring about an arbitration have met with further refusals on the part of the corporations. Rioting has entirely ceased, but the military train sent out from Sacramento was ditched, the engineer and a soldier were killed and others injured, attempts have been made on the life of vice president Wickes of the Pullman company. The switchmen on the Soo road have quit work.

MacLeod Gazette: A party of six settlers from Montana went through town yesterday with a band of 50 horses or so, which they cleared at this customs port. They are all French Canadians who have been resting uneasily under the gloomy shadow of the bald headed one's ways for various reasons, until finally the recollections of the Beaver and the Maple Leaf grew too strong, and they are now bound for the Red Deer country.

Pilot Mound Sentinel: The other day a curious caravan passed west through the province on the way to the Red Deer country. There were sixty head of cattle and a number of horses. The drove was attended by a mounted driver, who was aided by a good dog. There were three wagons, two of them covered with canvas; in one was the wife and children of the settler, the other two conveyances carried supplies, bedding, tents and other requirements. Judging from appearances Manitoba is losing a good settler.

F. MARIAGGI has resumed full charge of the dining department of the Alberta hotel, which was recently under the management of J. R. Dickson. The hotel is being improved and refitted throughout.

DR. JEBERTSON has nearly recovered from the accident which occurred to him a couple of weeks ago. He was riding on the hind seat of a light wagon, when the seat fell off behind taking him with it and injuring him severely in the side.

A PETITION is being circulated to-day requesting the Mayor to call a meeting of the ratepayers to discuss the action of the school trustees in selecting the new school site, and also the action of the town council re the opening of the roads to the ferry.

THE Poplar lake creamery is making about 800 pounds of butter per week. At present the milk of 175 cows is used, but this number is being increased daily. Consumers of butter will have an opportunity to taste the produce of the creamery on Saturday, when prints will be placed on the market.

ON Monday evening, before Inspector Snyder, Peter Williams of Bittern lake, was charged with having stolen a cow and calf belonging to a Mrs. Heighington also of Bittern lake, sometime about May 22nd. The cow and calf were sold to a German settler living near the Black Mud valley east of Leduc, for $20. The prisoner was committed for trial. He is a brother of Rance Williams, who is now held on a charge of murdering Geo. Steve. The prisoner is only about eighteen years of age. The arrest was effected by Constable Cowan.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JULY 12TH, 1894.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

The Ontario elections have resulted in Premier Mowat being sustained by a straight majority of two in the whole house. This is a great reduction from the majority held by his party in the preceding house, and if all who are not his supporters were supporters of the opposition leader, Mr. Meredith, it would be almost or altogether impossible for him to carry on the government. But while Mowat's following has been reduced by the elections, so has that of Meredith, so that as far as the old parties are concerned Mowat stands as well as he did before and Meredith is as far from power as ever. The reduction in the numbers of the two old parties is due to the rise of two new parties, the patrons of industry and the Protestant Protective association, the former having elected seventeen and the latter two or three candidates. In a country where party lines have been so firmly and clearly drawn for so many years as in Ontario, the formation and measurable success of new political parties is more significant than even the principles advocated by them—important though those principles may be. They are a visible sign that voters have begun to think for themselves and that in doing so they have reached the conclusion that the country had needs which the old parties as constituted were unable or unwilling to provide for. That Sir Oliver Mowat's government has been a clean and good government, almost everyone will admit. It will certainly compare more than favorably with any other provincial government in Canada. But it was—although nominally a liberal—really a conservative government. Conservative in the proper and not the party sense of the word. It has held on to existing conditions after lapse of time and change of circumstances may have rendered these conditions unsuitable. This is what has given rise to the new parties and led to the measure of success which they have attained. If Sir Oliver were a less experienced statesman or one whose personal prestige was not so great, he might easily be ousted from power in the attempt to conform to the requirements of present circumstances. But when his record for the past twenty years is considered, it appears probable that while an advance will be made along some lines that will be directly in the public interest, the province will have the advantage of the careful management and clean methods of the veteran premier for another four years.

The question, "What is the matter with Hannah" which was asked editorially some weeks ago by the Winnipeg Commercial and an answer published by the same paper—Hannah being the business condition of Manitoba and the West, which is taken for granted to be unsatisfactory—has been referred to by many papers, and as many reasons given for "Hannah's" ailments. The Moose Jaw Chronicle places the chief blame on the recent dry seasons which have occurred in the Plain region of the Northwest, which again it believes to have been caused by prairie fires. Speaking for the Edmonton district at the present time the BULLETIN begs to remark that beyond a moderate share of the world wide stringency now prevailing there is nothing the matter with "Hannah" here. Of course her condition could be improved, and she proposes to improve it as rapidly as possible, but the present condition is one of improvement and not retrogression, such as so many Manitoba and Northwest places complain of.

The Empire says on authority of a gentleman thoroughly conversant with the movements of Sir Oliver Mowat, that the Premier has already made overtures to a newly elected Patron to enter his cabinet. The Empire adds that it is proposed he shall become the Minister of Agriculture, it being the intention of the Liberal leaders to make a general shift and possibly to retire John Dryden into the speakership.

LICENSE INSPECTOR.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

Sir: In answer to a letter appearing in your issue of the 9th inst. signed "Wonderer," I beg to state that I am at all times to be found in Edmonton, and there has not been on any occasion that my duties as license inspector have been neglected, therefore I consider it unnecessary for your correspondent to put his wonderings, concerning me in the public press. I was present on the race course upon the commemoration of the Dominion's natal day and personally saw no infringement of the liquor ordinance. It is an accepted fact that all citizens should assist in carrying out the laws, therefore, if "Wonderer" over his own signature will give me the names of those whom he saw break the liquor ordinance I will see that they are brought to justice, otherwise I cannot take any action upon a statement made, under a name de plume.

Yours, etc.,
GEO. PURCHES,
License Inspector.

GENERAL NEWS.

S. J. McCallum, Mayor of Morris, Man., was fatally shot by a rifle which he was handling.

Jesse N. Hammond, of Moose Jaw, dropped dead of heart disease while batting in a cricket match on Dominion Day.

The council of Regina has decided to appropriate $10,000 for the erection of buildings for the Territorial exhibition in 1895.

The daily Nor'Wester claims a circulation of 2,442, and a weekly circulation of over 4,000. It asserts that this is larger than the circulation of either of the other Winnipeg evening papers.

Calgary Herald: Flockmasters in the Macpherson's Coulee district are jubilant over their clip this year, which will average at least seven pounds to the animal, the best in the last two years.

The Moose Jaw Times says that John Smith of that place had a wagon and a load of wood burned recently. He threw his coat which contained his pipe on top of the load behind him as he drove along. The load took fire and he only saved his horses by freeing them from the load.

Twenty-four carat gold is all gold; twenty-two carat gold has twenty-two parts of gold, one of silver and one of copper; eighteen carat gold has eighteen parts of pure gold and three parts each of silver and copper in its composition; twelve carat gold is half gold, the remainder being made up of three and a half parts of silver and eight and a half parts of copper.

The Steamship "Miwera" will leave Southampton about August 27th, 1894, on her special tour around the world, mention of which has been already made in these columns. This will give tourists the opportunity of visiting five continents, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and America, crossing the latter by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The extremely low rate, $510.00, named for this trip should induce a large number of people to take advantage of it. For further particulars apply to any C.P.R. agent, or Robert Kerr, general passenger agent, Winnipeg.

The very neatest and best emigration pamphlet the BULLETIN has yet seen is issued by the young men's emigration advice society, a branch of the Y. M. C. A., of Liverpool, England. It has eight pages 2½ inches by four. The information is put in the form of answers to questions: "What kind of young men may emigrate? It says—Strong, healthy young men, who may or may not have been clerks at home, but who prefer an open air life, willing to commence and stick to the hard work of farming for one or more years according to age and ability in order to get the necessary experience to afterwards work their own land. If they have a previous knowledge of farming and joining in this country so much the better. In answer to the question: Where is the best place to go to, it says—I prefer the Northwest of Canada, being open prairie, under our own flag, with dry heat in summer and dry cold in winter. To the question: Is it necessary to have some capital? the reply is particularly good: It is not absolutely essential, as some young men are now working their free grants of land with the savings of their wages after getting their training; although it is useful to have a present or future capital of £100 to £300, but it is wise to say nothing about it until experience is gained.

Nor'Wester, on the Pullman boycott: It is evident that the train services in the west and north-west are very badly demoralized. This great inconvenience to the public arises from a local difference at Pullman. The Car Company of that name cut down the wages of its employees, and after several days of disputing the men went out in a body. Efforts were made to effect a settlement, but without success; the men insisted on the old rates, and the Company stubbornly refused to budge an inch. When it was seen that an arrangement between the parties was hopeless, the American Railway Union, a recent organization which includes all classes of railway employees, intimated to the Pullmans that unless they came to terms with their men the Union would boycott Pullman cars on all the roads in the country. Even this failed to move the Company, and as the Union feels itself master of the situation in the last resort it is now engaged in putting its threat into execution. All the roads centring in Chicago are more or less affected by the boycott. The railway companies regard Pullman cars as a necessary part of their trains and will not move without them; the men refuse to handle trains of which Pullmans form a part. That is the development of the original dispute which is now paralyzing the train service of the west.

The Nor'Wester commenting on the BULLETIN's recent article regarding Old Timers says: "The Northwest was worth its price and therefore the Government of Canada took possession of it. To realize its value it was necessary to build a railway, for which the country has paid a good round figure. The government which did all this is the servant of the people; of the Edmonton settlers and other settlers of the Northwest, as much as of the more numerous class in the East; and it did it with the sanction and at the instance of the people. It could not presume to act otherwise. As far as it has shown a disposition to serve the people it is entitled to commendation, just as any other is, but there is nothing due to its favor, by or in behalf of any one. As for the C. P. R., the Northwest owes it nothing; but the men whom the C. P. R. has made millionaires owe the Northwest much. They have every reason to bless their stars that such a country existed. They were well paid for all they did towards supplying the railway, and what they have done outside their original contract was for their own advantage and not for that of the Northwest. They do nothing from patriotic or philanthropic motives, but wholly from selfish ones. They did not build to Edmonton for Edmonton's sake, but for their own. By doing it they conferred a benefit on that district, but if the benefit was not expected to reflect back on themselves they would not have done it. How frequently we have all heard the ignorant challenge, 'Where would you have been if it had not been for the C. P. R.?' As if the people were dogs and were grateful for the bone thrown to them. A much more pertinent query is, 'Where would the C. P. R. be if it had not been for us?' It is the people and the country that made the C. P. R., not the C. P. R. the people and the country. The Old Timers of Edmonton understand this, and it would be better for us if we all did."

PEACE RIVER.

Messrs. T. A. and A. L. Brick, traders, A. Mackenzie, farmer and miller, and Messrs. Gibson and Simpson, who went north last March, arrived from Peace river on Wednesday, coming from the Landing with James Cummings. Messrs. Picard and Lariviere arrived at the Landing from Lesser Slave lake with them on Sunday last. The Messrs. Brick bring a good quantity of fur. The spring was late in Peace river, seedling being commenced on May 4th. The season has been dry since and crops are not doing as well as usual.

The Peace river has been unusually high and at Fort St. John rose some distance over the banks. The high water interfered seriously with gold mining.

Rev. Mr. Brick, of Shaftsbury mission, has been seriously ill for some time, but is now recovering. The sickness which was prevalent in mid-winter has ceased on the Upper Peace river but has spread to Vermilion. T. A. Brick visited Vermilion in the spring and found the season there a week later, but more favorable, than at Shaftsbury mission. About fifteen people are farming at Vermilion and vicinity. Mr. A. L. Brick goes on to Toronto on a visit.

A NUISANCE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

SIR: If there is one greater nuisance than another around the town at the present time, it is the family cow with her bell.

That most exasperating animal seldom fails to appear under the windows about 4 a. m., and stands contentedly chewing the cud and monotonously jangling her discordant bell with an incessant regularity that drives one high mad and utterly banishes sleep.

An effort to free yourself from the persecution by jumping out of bed and chasing the brute away, is not successful. The cow merely retreats a little distance and seems to know that the scant attire of 4 a. m., is her safeguard.

Then again it is useless to try and keep a water barrel full. The cow comes round as regularly as the waterman himself, or near so, and as he places the barrels on end and fills them, so she turns them over and empties them. It would be interesting to see these two meet.

There are also walls from the owners of gardens, of fences broken and vegetables destroyed, and the work and care of months gone in one night.

Surely some by-law could be framed to abate in some measure what is becoming an intolerable nuisance.

Yours, &c.,
CITIZEN.
